BEAUTIFUL WEDDING

Popular Couple Married in the Episcopal Church on Saturday Night.
Rev. J. H. Fielding officiating.

The marriage of Mr. Harry Schoelwer of Cincinnati and Miss Margaret McClanahan of this city was solemnized in the Episcopal Church last Saturday night, Rev. J. H. Fielding performing the ceremony.

The church was decorated with ferns. Promptly at eight-thirty to the strains of the wedding march, the bride came down the aisle with Mrs. Elwood Roser as matron of honor. They were preceded by Miss Frances Weisner as flower girl. At the altar they were met by the groom and his best man, Mr. Elwood Roser. Dr. C. W. McClanahan, the brother of the bride gave her away. The ceremony was very impressive.

The bride wore a beautiful white crepe de chine gown trimmed with duchess lace and carried a bouquet of brides roses and lilies of the valley.

The matron of honor wore a gold striped gown and carried roses. Miss Weisner as flower girl was dressed in pink and carried pink carnations. They received many beautiful wedding presents.

Messrs. Sam Alper, Pickett McClanahan and Lee Aultman were the ushers of the evening.

After the ceremony the couple went to the home of the bride and groom at 10:48 train for White Sulphur Springs, Va., where they will spend ten days. They will be at the home of the bride to their friends after July 10th.

The out of town guests for the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. George B. Bendel of Cincinnati, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Schoelwer of Cincinnati, Mr. and Mrs. J. Anderson of Cincinnati, Mr. and Mrs. William Bartruff of Cincinnati and Mrs. W. T. White of Indianapolis. A large number of friends and relatives were present at the church.

The Ledger joins with their many friends in wishing them a long and happy married life.

Mr. Harry Daly is spending a vacation in Atlantic City, New Jersey.

Saturday, the third day of the Chautauqua, presented a program that by far eclipsed the numbers of the two preceding days.

Signor Giuseppe Bartolotta, the eminent Italian tenor, appeared in the afternoon and gave a recital lasting half an hour. Signor Bartolotta is a wonderful singer and his numbers greatly impressed his audience. His actions on the stage immediately made him a great favorite. He has sung the leading parts in many of the well known operas and has sung with Melba, Kublick and many of the other artists.

Dr. E. F. Daugherty, the morning hour lecturer, gave the address of the afternoon. His subject was "The Punch and Pull of Conscience." He treated his subject in a masterful and forceful way.

The crowning number of the Chautauqua of the talent that has appeared was the William Owen Company in "The Servant in the House." The play greatly impressed all who saw it. The acting was wonderful and seemed as natural as it could be. Should this company ever return to this city it would no doubt, be greeted by a very large audience.

The winners of the prizes of the Junior Redpath Club have been announced. Two prizes were offered to the children who could make the most words out of the name "Junior Redpath Chautauqua." Miss Elizabeth Orr won first prize having made 1570 words. Miss Anna Ennis won second having made 1390 words. The prizes were delightful books.

MAYSVILLE LADY ENTERTAINED

The following item from the Atchison (Kan.) Globe will be of interest to the many friends of Miss Louise Sproemberg:

Mrs. Warren Harwi's attractive home on North Fifth street was the scene of an enjoyable party yesterday afternoon, when she entertained with an auction bridge party for two June brides, Mrs. Victor King and Mrs. H. E. Muchnic, and for a bride elect, Miss Bessie Morris. The hostess is one of the most popular of Atchison's young matrons, and her popularity was evident in the floral decorations of her house yesterday, which were elaborate, and the flowers were all sent by her friends for the occasion. They filled wall vases, baskets and pardinieres. The bridge prize, a cut glass vase, was won by Mrs. Victor King. The hostess was assisted in serving refreshments by Miss Erana Kessler, Mrs. Burt Allen and Mrs. True Snowden. After refreshments were served, Mrs. Will Thayer, who has a beautiful soprano voice, sang, accompanied upon the piano by Mrs. O. M. Babcock. Among the out of town guests were Miss Annie Otis, of Philadelphia; Miss Louise Sproemberg, of Maysville, Ky., and Mrs. Vernon Weeds, of Salt Lake City.

TWO VITAL DEFECTS

Hon. Elihu Root:—"The defects of the present Administration arise from two distinct causes. The first is the temperament and training of the President. The second is the incapacity of the Democratic party as it is represented in Washington, both in the legislative and in the executive department, either to originate wise policies or to administer them effectively if they are established. The Democrats in Congress are never controlled except with a club, and government with a club is always spasmodic and defective."

"These characteristics will not change; President Wilson cannot change his nature; the Democratic party will not change the character of its representatives; and there is no escape from having the same causes of weakness which have controlled our Government for the last three years continued in the future except the withdrawal of power from the Democratic party."

Wilson took a day off to explain what he meant by "disentangling alliances." It now looks as if he would have to explain the meaning of "universal voluntary training."

Belle of Maysville

The most wonderful whisky that ever drove the skeleton from a feast or painted landscapes in the brain of man. It is the mingled souls of wheat and corn. In it you will find the sunshine and the shadow that chased each other over the billowy fields; the breath of June; the carol of the lark; the dews of night; the wealth of summer; and Autumn's rich content—all golden with imprisoned light.

Drink it, and you will hear the voices of men and maidens singing the "Harvest Home" mingled with the laughter of children. Drink it, and you will feel within your blood the star-lit dawns, the dreamy, tawny dusks of many perfect days. For many years this liquid joy has been confined within the happy staves of oak, longing to touch the lips of man.

BUT THIS IS HOW HE DID IT

JUDGING BY THE PAST

(Washington Post)

In the war of 1847 the beginning of the struggle between the United States and Mexico was not unlike the present preliminary clashes. General Taylor in his arduous campaign against Monterey had 7,000 men, but even after the capture of Monterey and the victory of Buena Vista, he was confronted with such difficulties in the southern advance that it was finally decided to abandon the campaign in that quarter. Shortly afterward Taylor's forces were reduced to about 5,000 men and the real invasion of Mexico was made by General Winfield Scott by way of Vera Cruz. An army of 12,000 men captured Vera Cruz after a siege lasting 20 days. Fewer men were used to capture the city two years ago and the siege lasted only a few hours.

The march into the interior was delayed for a month because Scott's army was deficient in transportation facilities. The first battle fought at Cerro Gordo resulted in victory for the Americans. Scott pushed on to wait for two months for re-enforcements. By the time he was ready to start 30,000 Mexican troops had been drawn up to defend the City of Mexico.

General Scott's march from Vera Cruz occupied six months. Against superior forces at the gates of Mexico City he won an overwhelming victory. While estimates vary as to the number of men engaged on the Mexican side, it is the opinion of army officers that only about 50,000 men were engaged on that side, while on the American side, guarding the border and including the troops at Vera Cruz, nearly 300,000 soldiers were used all told during the two years of warfare.

It is probable that Mexico at the present time could raise 200,000 trained soldiers. The American army is smaller now than it was in 1847. Mexico City is better fortified today than it was in the earlier war and so are its various approaches. It would be no easy trouble that would confront the United States in case of war, but without doubt the American army, backed by the national guard and the volunteer troops, which would be called for, would be equal to the emergency.

FRUIT OF FOLLY

The Carranza note is the ripened fruit of a policy of folly. Intervention was the last thing this country wanted in Mexico, but from the majority of thinking people had concluded that, having then intervened, we should have gone about it thoroughly and settled the whole matter. This conviction was intensified when the punitive expedition was sent across the border after Villa.

If Carranza is in earnest, despite his expressed hope that the "sensibilities of the Washington government would not be wounded" by his plain speaking, or if the Mexicans take him to be in earnest and act upon the veiled suggestion of the use of force, the administration in Washington must eat its words and we must intervene as vigorously as we are able in our present unprepared state, or we must get out.—South Bend (Ind.) WHEN THE KIDNEYS FAIL

Maysville People Have Found That Ill Health Follows

Do you ever feel that you simply can't go any further—that you must have rest from that lame and aching back—relief from the constant, dead-tired feeling—freedom from those stabbing, darting pains? Likely your kidneys are worn and tired and need help. The kidneys work night and day, removing uric acid from the blood and other waste created by expenditure of strength and energy. Naturally a life of unusual activity doubles the duties of the kidneys and in time the strain generally tells. Doan's Kidney Pills have brought new strength to thousands of bad backs and quick relief to weakened kidneys, so users say. Let them do the same for you.

S. O. Duncan, blacksmith, Flemingsburg, Ky., says: "I had severe backaches and my kidneys were out of order, their action being irregular. Hearing about Doan's Kidney Pills, I gave them a trial and was soon convinced of their merit. They strengthened my kidneys and back."

Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Duncan had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

HOW TO SUCCEED IN SCHOOL

In the Woman's Home Companion is the following account of what a small boy with a pacifist mother was up against in taking his place in the juvenile community:

"Harold," said his mother earnestly, "promise me that, whatever those rough boys may do, you will never fight. If necessary, report them to your teacher, or come and tell your father and me. But never descend to the level of the animals by giving blow for blow and"—she searched for an effective simile—"tooth for tooth. The boy who fights in youth will be soldier when he grows up—a brutal, bloodthirsty soldier, fit only to be a soldier, fit only to be food for cannon. You know how deeply I feel about this, Harold. Men have made all the wars so far; but I want my little son to be one of the newer, better generation. I want you to advance civilization when you grow up, not drag the world back to the days of barbarism."

Congress idea of preparedness is to throw the public money up in the air, and what sticks to the dome is for the army and navy.

A woman sometimes loses her color long after she has ceased to blush.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years doctors pronounced it to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only Constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address: F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O. Sold by Druggists, 75c. ARM, BROTHERS! ARM!

(By George Willard Bonte.)

Americans! come rally 'round

The old Red, White and Blue.

It waves o'er sacred, blood-bought

ground

For every one of you.

The symbol of a nation freed,

It knows no color, race or creed,

So arm, brothers! arm!

It stood for courage, brawn and grit

In good old days of yore.

In eighteen-twelve we led for it—

Again in forty-four.

Though sadly torn in sixty-two,

Its life still bore a charm.

In nine-eight 'twad good as new—

So arm, brothers! arm!

Oh, mothers, steel your hearts and send

Your loyal sons away

In Freedom's name and help defend

The homeland, while you pray.

And hark ye, lads! A fight to save

Each city, town and farm

In God's eyes will seem just and brave

So arm, brothers! arm!

Our country needs more troops today—

More sailor laddies, too.

Each man should wear the khaki gray

Or else the navy blue.

Should dear Old Glory need our aid,

To her defense we'll swarm.

Fall in, my lads, for dress parade,

So arm, brothers! arm!

TAUSCHER IS ACQUITTED OF CONSPIRACY CHARGE IN CANAL ALLEGATIONS

New York, June 30—A verdict of not guilty was returned today in the trial of Captain Hans Tauscher, charged with conspiring to blow up the Welland Canal in Canada.

Tauscher, who is agent for the Krupp interests in this country, was specifically accused of furnishing the dynamite with which pro-German sympathizers were to blow up the canal.

The defense was based upon the contention that Tauscher, while favoring the German cause, had asked Captain von Papen, former Military Attaché to the German Embassy at Washington, to give him work to do which would not be in violation of the laws of the country.

The jury was out fifty minutes.

When the verdict was read, Captain Tauscher's wife, Mme. Gawski, the opera singer, and Miss Lotta Tauscher, his daughter, swayed in their seats and wept with happiness. Two men start a demonstration by clapping their hands and shouting in German but were quickly ejected by court attendants. Tauscher left the courtroom immediately with his family.

The indictment which charged complicity in a plot to destroy the Welland Canal with dynamite was returned by a Federal Grand Jury April 19 last, and named Tauscher, Captain Franz von Papen, Germany's recalled Military Attaché, Wolf von Igel, his Secretary, Alfred A. Fritzen and Constantine Covan.

Von Igel is yet to be tried. Fritzen and Covan are believed to be out of the country.

KENTUCKY MAY FURNISH CAMP FOR VOLUNTEERS IF CALL IS SENT OUT

New York, June 30—Information was given out tonight at Department of the East headquarters regarding the camps which would be selected as places of concentration in the event of a call by President Wilson for volunteers for Mexican duty.

Some of these camps are the same as those at which State militiamen now are mobilized. They are located as follows:

Black Point, near Jacksonville, Fla.; Macon, Ga.; Earlington, Ky.; Augusta, Me.; Laurel, Md.; South Framingham, Mass.; Jackson, Miss.; Concord, N. H.; Sea Girt, N. J.; Camp Whitman, Greenhaven, N. Y.; Camp Glenn, Moorehead City, N. C.; Mt. Gretna, Pa.; Quonset Point, R. I.; The River Styx, near Columbus, S. C.; Nashville, Tenn.; Colchester, Vt.; Richmond, Va.; Terra Alta, W. Va., and for the District of Columbia, Ft. Myer, Va.

Deming, N. M., June 30—four of the Mexican bandits who participated in the Columbus raids, were hanged here this morning, making six in all who have paid for their crimes on the gallows. The others were hanged several weeks ago.

The men went to their fate stoically.

PROPHECIES

Of Financial Crisis After War Dealt Blow By Thomas W. Lamont—View That America Will Be a World Center Not Shared By Leader, But Statistics Show Ascendancy of Nation

New York, July 3—While authentic statements which report the financial condition for the countries now engaged in war in Europe are always read with the figures without any precedent, nevertheless for the United States the important feature contained in these statistics is one which reflects the relation the United States will be called upon to bear to the rest of the world after the European war is ended.

It is from this point of view that the article written by Thomas W. Lamont, who is one of the partners in the house of J. P. Morgan & Co., discusses not only the immediate relation which the United States is bearing to these world events, but also the future relation which it will bear.

Mr. Lamont is abundantly fortified by information and experience to speak in words of assurance to the people of the United States respecting financial conditions after the war is over. He is convinced that those who are predicting sweeping financial disaster will discover that their prophecies were in vain.

In his view, there is no danger, at least none that cannot be avoided, of financial cataclysm when the European war is ended. If this view be correct, then the United States will be all the better prepared to meet and accept the responsibilities and opportunities which will come to the nation.

View Not Shared By Him
In one brief paragraph Mr. Lamont intimates that he does not share the view of those who profess to believe that the United States soon will become the financial center of the world. Some high authorities are of the opinion. In April it was written into the report of the Deutsche Bank of Berlin which told of its operations for the year 1915.

For the moment, Mr. Lamont admits that the world seems to be financially at America's feet. Nevertheless, the phenomena upon which may be based the theory that we have permanently assumed that position have been in existence too short a time to justify establishing a fair inference upon them.

There are, however, certain statistics which tell a story of the growing financial ascendancy of the United States. These statistics report the loans which have been absorbed by American investigators. The aggregate is $1,058,500,000. But of all these loans the one made jointly to Great Britain and France is, in Mr. Lamont's opinion, far and away the most important single financial episode of the war from the point of view of the United States.

Some detailed statistics concerning the floating of that loan of $500,000,000 are reported by Mr. Lamont, which convey an excellent idea of the view respecting this loan by American investors in various parts of the country. About $50,000,000 were underwritten in New England States. That is a larger amount than is commonly supposed to have been the case. Three hundred and twenty millions were underwritten in New York State, almost all of it, however, in New York City. Pennsylvania investors showed their confidence in the loan to the extent of $60,000,000, and the rest of it $70,000,000 in all—were subscribed to here and there throughout the country. One extraordinary feature of this loan was the fact that Chicago underwrote only about $6,000,000.

What It All Portends

All of the information and facts which have come within the observation of Mr. Lamont lead him to the view that whatever may be the status after the war, it is certain that for many years to come there will open to manufacturers and merchants of the United States unexampled opportunities for upbuilding. Apparently these opportunities will be in part due to the unquestionable ability for recuperation which all the larger belligerent nations possess. This capacity for recuperation will be based in part upon the highly developed modern methods of conducting industries, especially that which is sometimes called "scientific management." American industry because of this kind of efficiency, is likely to meet with more formidable competition than in the years which preceded the European war.

The American opportunities, large as they will be, nevertheless entail a great deal of wisdom and skillful direction if they are to be grasped. Great Britain and Germany will undoubtedly retain in some measure the great markets they established in other parts of the world, and will speedily attempt to increase them.

America, however, has an especially great opportunity for securing some part of these markets and maintaining them, because the United States will be for some years after the war the only nation able to finance upon a great scale the needs of other nations. Financing of that kind always increases trade.

Opportunities Are Great

Whether that trade will be maintained increased or not will depend upon the liberality and wisdom of the Americans who enter these foreign markets.

Mr. Lamont is convinced that we are to have great opportunities upon the continent of Europe, especially in Russia. Furthermore, Belgium and Northern France are likely to call upon the United States for commodities, and our manufacturers will be approached with intent to secure aid in rebuilding bridges, roads and factories.

If the United States is to lend her aid in rebuilding the world there should be in Mr. Lamont's opinion, great increase in scientific attainments and also a great development of technical education. All the wealth the United States gains as a result of the war will be, in Mr. Lamont's view, of no use to the nation unless it aids in developing American institutions, in educating and broadening her citizens. "Without a revival in science and learning to illumine, to inspire and make them wise, business and finance can never fulfill their work of contributing substantially to the arts of peace and civilization."

There are many intimations in the entire article that Mr. Lamont believes that as one of the great results of the struggle across the sea the United States will respond in such manner as to create something better than mere wealth, and that is, a cultivated, broadened and enlightened citizenship.

FAMED ARRIETA BROTHERS IN LEAGUE WITH TREVINO

Juarez, June 30—The famed Arrieta brothers, long associated with Pancho Villa in his palmy days, arrived at Chihuahua from Durango today with 2,500 men, according to reports received here. It is stated that they will form a junction with General Jacinto Trevino, de facto commander of the Chihuahua district.

Perhaps, though, those border raids are just neighborly calls from our dear friends on the other side.

Mighty few people are too sharp to be flattered.

Chautauqua Band Leader Dynamic, Dramatic, Picturesque, Say Critics

FRANCESCO PALLARIA.

FRANCESCO PALLARIA, whose band is to appear in two concerts on the Chautauqua's fifth day, is dynamic, dramatic and wonderfully musical. The Kentucky State Journal says: "Pallaria is both vigorous and picturesque. He has splendid control over his men, whose work in precision, shading and orchestration has reached a high standard."

A musical critic in one of the southern states where Pallaria's band appeared a few months ago said of this phenomenal Neapolitan leader: "His directing is the embodiment of grace and vim. Every varying tempo and mood in the music is reflected in his face and gestures."

STRICKEN NATIONS GET OVER $3,000,000 FOR WAR RELIEF

New York, June 30—More than $3,000,000 was appropriated by the War Relief Commission of the Rockefeller Foundation during the six months ended today, the first half year of the commission's existence, and of this amount more than $2,000,000 already has been expended. The figures are contained in the report of the foundation, made public today.

Of the total of $2,159,985 expended during the six months, Belgium was by far the greater beneficiary, $1,290,292 having gone for relief in that country and among Belgians in other countries. Armenian and Syrian relief was next, with $360,000, and Serbian relief third, with $148,894. An appropriation of $1,000,000 for relief in Poland, Serbia, Montenegro and Albania is yet to be expended.

For relief work in and about Constantinople, $35,000 was expended, while $55,000 was devoted to the surgical laboratory at Compiègne, founded by the Rockefeller Institute for medical research and which is under the direction of Dr. Alexis Carrel.

HUSBAND SAVED HIS WIFE
Stopped Most Terrible Suffering by Getting Her Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Denison, Texas.—"After my little girl was born two years ago I began suffering with female trouble and could hardly do my work. I was very nervous but just kept dragging on until last summer when I got where I could not do my work. I would have a chill every day and hot flashes and dizzy spells and my head would almost burst. I got where I was almost a walking skeleton and life was a burden to me until one day my husband's step-sister told my husband if he did not do something for me I would not last long and told him to get your medicine. So he got Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for me, and after taking the first three doses I began to improve. I continued its use, and I have never had any female trouble since. I feel that I owe my life to you and your remedies. They did for me what doctors could not do and I will always praise it wherever I go."—Mrs. G. O. LOWERY, 419 W. Monterey Street, Denison, Texas.

If you are suffering from any form of female ills, get a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and commence the treatment without delay.

SHOTS EXCHANGED BY MEXICANS AND UNITED STATES SENTRIES

Nogales, Ariz., July 2.—Nogales was aroused early today by a fusillade of shots just west of the town, that lasted for five minutes. The firing proved to be an exchange of shots between members of the Carranza garrison in Nogales, Sonora, and an American sentry post, on this side of the line. No one was injured.

With the arrival of the California field artillery expected tonight, the force here will total 3,000 men. A squadron of the California national guard cavalry arrived today without mounts and went into camp.

The total of Carranza fighting men in western Sonora, including Yaqui and Mayo Indians, seasoned soldiers and citizens in training, is reported to be about 19,000. These are exclusive of the forces south of Douglas and around Cananea. The Mexican coal supply has become low while the rolling stock of the railway is in poor repair it is reported.

While mobilizing continues on this side of the border, small pox and starvation are active throughout Sonora, according to Joseph Enoden, a German sailor who arrived here today after six days on a troop train of twenty-seven cars moving from Guaymas to Inurris.

Another Carrizal Survivor
El Paso, Tex., July 2.—Another survivor of the Carrizal fight was located today. He is Corporal F. X. Cooke, of the K. Troop, Tenth Cavalry, who was brought into Juarez this afternoon from Villa Ahumada and placed in prison.

General Francisco Gonzales, Juarez commander, wired General Jacinto Trevino, at Chihuahua City, for instructions and it is probable Cooke will be turned over to the American authorities tomorrow.

Corporal Cooke, in addition to telling of his adventures since the battle with the Mexicans under General Gomez, added his statement to that of other survivors that the Mexicans fired the first shots of the engagement.

He also quoted Captain Boyd as saying just before the commander gave orders to his men to advance:

"The General has given orders that there is only one way for us to go and that is to the north. My orders are to go to Villa Ahumada, to the east, and I am the commander."

January was elected director and Secretary-Treasurer of the company.

The many friends of Mr. January are more than pleased to see him in promotion. From the standpoint of efficiency and popularity we doubt if a better selection could have been made in this or any other section.
